

From: Susan Bryant
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/24/02 9:33am
Subject: antitrust case

This witch hunt has gone on long enough. Microsoft's products have done nothing to harm the public. In fact, they have added greatly to the economy and profitability of the country. As far as netscape is concerned, anyone can use it if they want. It is just not as good as Microsoft. In the economy of the times, the taxpayers money could be better spent on something else, namely the terrorist attacks on America.
Susan Bryant